The Maryland State Boychoir has traveled in over 40 U.S. states and 10 countries abroad. Performances have included venues such as the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., the great cathedrals nationally and internationally, featured segments on National Public Radio, and in collaborations with a variety of orchestras. Based in Baltimore City, the Boychoir serves as a means through which boys learn about music, self-discipline, and life skills. Additional information about the Maryland State Boychoir can be found on their website: www.marylandstateboychoir.org
